Operational risk: BJB is exposed to operational risks. Operational risk is the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people, systems, external events or fraud. It includes the risk of unexpected losses from isolated events, caused for example by faulty information systems, unsuitable organisational structures or deficient control mechanisms. BJB's operational risk consists, in particular of information security risk (including cyber risk), fraud risk and technology risk. In an industry where business processes are becoming increasingly complex, BJB relies heavily on its financial, accounting and other data processing systems. If any of these systems, were not to operate properly or were disabled including due to a systems malfunction, cyber breach or other systems failure, BJB could suffer financial loss, liability to clients, loss of client confidence, regulatory intervention and/or reputational damage. Therefore, the realisation of operational risks could have a material adverse effect on BJB's profitability and results of operations.

Market risks: Market risk refers to the potential losses through changes in the valuation of its assets and liabilities because of changes in market prices, volatilities, correlations and other valuation-relevant factors. BJB separates its market risk into the trading market risk and the non-trading market risk. Trading market risk results in the context of structuring such structured products by BJB as well of providing access to global equity, bonds, foreign exchange, fx and precious metal markets. BJB's results of operation depend, to a significant extent, on factors such as the returns realized by its clients on their investments as well as its ability to attract new money inflows. Weak investment performance in the financial markets, in general, will negatively affect the value of the assets BJB manages for its clients and may lead to a decline in BJB's revenues and profitability. If the market risk realizes this could therefore have a material adverse effect on BJB's results of operation.

Reputational risk: BJB's reputation may deteriorate due to cases in which stakeholders' perception of BJB differs negatively from BJB's actual conduct performance and business practice. Negative sentiment relating B

Early Redemption and Adjustments

If an Extraordinary Event has occurred, the Calculation Agent and the Issuer, acting together, shall have the right, to redeem the Products early. An Extraordinary Event, for example, is a national or international incident or crisis, the closure of a clearing system or a market disruption event. If upon the occurrence of an Additional Adjustment Event with respect to [the][an] Underlying(s), the Issuer determines that it is unable to make the applicable adjustment, the Issuer may early terminate the Products on such day as the Issuer shall select in its discretion and redeem the Products at an amount determined by the Calculation Agent as representing their fair market value on such day. Additional Adjustment Events comprise e.g. certain events effecting the Underlying as such, trading of the Underlying or a change in law.

Where will the Securities be traded?

Application will be made to list the Products on the SIX Swiss Exchange in the trading segment for Structured Products. It is expected that the Products will be provisionally admitted to trading as of 09 Sep 2026.

What are the key risks that are specific to the Securities?

Investors in the Products bear the risk of unsubordinated creditors in case of a bankruptcy of the Issuer and are not privileged by law: An investor assumes the risk that the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA ("FINMA") initiates bankruptcy of the Issuer. This circumstance may arise if the Issuer is overindebted or has serious liquidity problems, or if it fails to meet the capital adequacy requirements after a deadline set by the FINMA. Potential Conflicts of Interest	The Issuer and other companies in the Group enter into transactions in the Underlyings or in components of the Underlying or in options or futures contracts relating to the Underlyings or components thereof in their normal course of business and from time to time may participate in transactions connected to the Products for their own account or on behalf of others. The Issuer and other companies in the Group can also hold interests in individual Underlyings or in the companies contained in these Underlyings, meaning that conflicts of interest can arise in connection with the Products. The Issuer and other companies in the Group can receive non-public information regarding the Underlying or components of the underlying, but are not obliged to pass such information on to the holders. Furthermore, companies in the Group can publish research reports on the underlying or components of the underlying. Activities such as those mentioned can give rise to specific conflicts of interest. Furthermore, the Issuer and other companies in the Group can, in addition, exercise another function in relation to the Underlying or components thereof, such as issuing agent, calculation agent, paying agent and administrative agent and/or index sponsor. Therefore, there can be conflicts of interest regarding the duties when determining the prices of the Products and other determinations related thereto among the relevant companies in the Group and between the companies and the Investors. Furthermore, the Issuer and other companies in the Group may act as members of a consortium, financial advisor or commercial bank in connection with future offers of the Underlying or components thereof; activities of this kind can also entail conflicts of interest.
