AMC JB SWISS SMC

PRODUCT STRATEGY

The AMC on the JB Swiss Small & Mid Cap Strategy is an actively managed notional portfolio of CHF denominated small- and midcap stocks out of the SPI Extra universe.

MANAGEMENT SUMMARY

The AMC on the Julius Bär Swiss Small & Mid Cap Strategy invests exclusively in Swiss equities. - It is leveraging the already existing Edelweiss Equity strategy, which is based on a traditional “bottom up” approach. The stock picking focuses primarily on high-quality companies that are likely to benefit from favorable structural trends (such as urbanisation, demographic changes, health-related themes, digitalisation/automation). Besides this, we also invest in equities that we feel offer opportunities (such as turnaround, M&A) not yet fully reflected in their current share prices.

May Performance Update

On the back of the overall rebound of equity markets also the AMC gained ground in May. With a plus of 7.5%, the AMC recovered as expected more than the SPI extra, which increased by 6.2% last month. Among the stocks with the best performances were SoftwareOne (+38%), Avolta (+20%) and Kardex (+18%). They were able to fully compensate for the losses of stocks like Schindler. Roche and Stadler Rail. In a possible further recovery of the market, the current positioning of the product should provide still attractive upside potential as the share of more cyclical stocks in the AMC is higher than in the SPI extra index.
